

Mathematical Sciences Department

POSITION: One- or two-year undergraduate faculty position in mathematics. Salary and rank commensurate with education and experience.

EDUCATION: Ph.D. in mathematics, statistics, or mathematics education preferred; master's degree required.

RESPONSIBILITIES: Eastern Mennonite University invites applicants for a one-year position in mathematics (with potential for second year). Responsibilities include teaching 21-24 semester hours (24 SH is full-time) and participating in departmental and university activities and meetings. Courses taught could include calculus, statistics, college algebra, liberal arts mathematics, or upper-level classes depending on candidate interest.

INQUIRIES: Position begins Fall 2012. Nine-month contract. Review begins immediately. Send letter of application, curriculum vitae, transcripts (unofficial acceptable), and three letters of reference to

Dr. Nancy R. Heisey, Vice President and Undergraduate Academic Dean, Eastern Mennonite University,
Harrisonburg, VA 22802
ugdean@emu.edu. 540-432-4141
<http://www.emu.edu>.

Applicants will be acknowledged by letter. EMU reserves the right to fill the position at any time or keep the position open. Equal Opportunity Employer.

Eastern Mennonite University (EMU) is a leader among faith-based universities offering undergraduate, graduate and seminary programs. Peacebuilding, creation care, and global engagement are core values at EMU, a progressive Christian liberal arts college located in Virginia's scenic Shenandoah Valley. Faith, ethics, stewardship, community service, and cross-cultural understanding are integral to community life at EMU. EMU faculty members are part of a team that is committed to the value of interdisciplinary collaboration and rich teaching experiences, helping to shape students for lives of service and leadership through excellent hands-on academic study and development of critical thinking and writing skills.